Spring Creek Recovery Center, a division of CREEKS Behavioral Health Services, is a community-based crisis facility. Spring Creek provides a broad array of services designed to assist individuals 18 years and older with their mental health stability and recovery. The center serves Creek, Okfuskee, Okmulgee, Wagoner, Cherokee, Adair, and Sequoyah counties, but also supports the crisis needs of Tulsa and the state as a whole.

Spring Creek Recovery Center not only includes a 16-bed Recovery Center, but also a walk-in clinic, a Psychiatric Urgent Care that has 8 Recovery recliners and a 24-hour hot line. The center is designed to meet the growing need to provide diversion services and crisis support care to adults requiring 24 hour care for intervention and crisis resolution, regardless of their ability to pay. Individuals meeting criteria who suffer from specific mental health disorders and substance abuse issues will be admitted for services.

Spring Creek Recovery Center's Walk-In clinic provides psychiatric assessment, and medication evaluation, as well as access to make appointments with CREOKS Behavioral Health Services.

The Psychiatric Urgent Care has 8 Recovery recliners where guests can get crisis intervention counseling, recovery coaching, case management, peer support, medication and psychiatric evaluation for up to 23 hours and 59 minutes.

The Crisis Recovery Center also offers crisis intervention counseling, recovery coaching, case management, peer support, medication and psychiatric evaluation, but in a residential format, with an average stay of 3 to 5 days, and up to a maximum of 10 days. This option is an alternative to hospitalization.

Spring Creek Recovery Center was designed with a warm and welcoming atmosphere where our clientele are considered guests. The Center is over 10,000 sq. feet and includes a beautiful 5,000 sq. foot courtyard.

Spring Creek is staffed with between 7 and 11 personnel on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week. These professionals work to create a trauma-informed, person-centered, recovery environment. Our physician is both psychiatrist and family practice credentialed.

Spring Creek Recovery Center is projected to reduce ER visits and the number of persons on emergency order of detention. It will lessen police transports out of the catchment area, as police now spend over 7,000 hours a year and 7,000 miles a month in transports. It also opens up 480 additional bed days a month for Tulsa and other hospital/crisis centers statewide.

Spring Creek Recovery Center is a division of CREOKS Behavioral Health Services and is funded in part by the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services.

CREOKS Behavioral Health Services is an established, non-profit behavioral health agency that has been serving communities in Oklahoma since 1980. Our reputation has allowed us to work with local agencies, schools, and civic organizations to help individuals and families.

Our organization offers a wide-range of services in our clinics and through home or school-based programs that help those needing brief counseling, substance abuse treatment or those struggling with behavioral issues.

Our professional staff is committed to the individual and strives to provide compassion and respect to our clients and their families by taking time to listen and properly assess their needs in order to provide workable and successful solutions.

CREOKS is certified by the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services and is accredited by CARF International.
